TIME FOR SANE THOUGHT

Will duplicate the price and quality of any five articles you may select from your big catalogue you received last week from the big mail order house of Chicago! Yes, we know this sounds "fishy" to those who have not been trading with us, but we insist that you try us. Make out your order in the regular way and send it to us and we will fill it in the catalogue way. Yes, we must have the money, too, just the same as they demand of you. Last spring we proposed to do this with a man whose stomach was full of gall. Then he asked us to "Charge it till fall". We refused. We will buy your Liberty Bonds. For a short time we will take in exchange for merchandise all Liberty Bonds. The Victory Bonds are worth 100 cents on the dollar.

TAYLOR MERCANTILE COMPANY MONEY SAVING NEWS

We have many things which we desire to tell you about—something you will enjoy hearing and seeing. But for lack of space in the columns of this paper we can only have you guessing what it is, unless you can visit our store before we run out of something to talk about.

Guess you know where we are. We are located on Popular street and Bargain corner. Look us up! Call 130. When you come once, you are sure to come again.

Last week our buyer went to market where he gathered many necessities, in better styles, better quality and better values than you have seen for some time.

Dry Goods Department

Dress goods of different kinds—small checks in gingham, percale—beautiful patterns, all colors, beautiful serges, tricot, tricolette, Canton crepe, crepe de chine, messafines, wash satin. Tell us what color you want; get first choice.

Fancy embroidery yarn—different colors, rickrack—all colors, fancy camisoles, silk blouses, silk petticoats. Ladies, if you want to get married before you have time to make a dress, come here and buy a suit. They're beautiful.

Flowered lace, also beautiful ribbon, if you can stand the price. Free look. Buy your nainsook here, your fancy Turkish towels. They're beautiful! Bed spreads with scalloped, fringed edge, lace embroidery and veining.

Parasols with ivory rings, silk shirt patterns, don't forget 'em. Yes, and ladies' glove silk hose, domestic, shooting, hollow tubing, long cloth lonsdale, Canton flannels, leather tick, straw tick, flannelette. Blankets, comforts and thousands of other things—it's time to get ready for the falling of the leaves. We have cotton and quilting material.

Clothing Department

Wonderful styles, wonderful quality and wonderful prices in suits for men and boys. Pants—a beautiful line for young men. Boys, come in and look at them—none better. You'll say they're all right. If you want work pants, we have them.

Silk shirts and a beautiful line of all kinds of caps. No better styles than we have. Boys, just come and see them. Neckties! If you want the latest, come here. Silk shirting—the patterns are beautiful.

Traveling bags. No one carries a more complete line. We have low and high priced bags. Remember us, we have trunks, too.

Shoe Department

If you want a really practical shoe, a society shoe, a serviceable shoe, come here. You'll find shoes here that you won't find in ordinary stores. We mean dress shoes. Come in and see them. Haven't had them but a few days. Boys, it isn't too early to buy a sweater. Fashion leaders don't care for comfort. Get in the lead.

Grocery Department

Our grocery trade is growing all the time. Those who trade here know why. Those who do not will know why if they compare our prices with others. One grocery salesman did last week, "You're selling more groceries than anyone in town." You'll agree with us that our price does it.

Don't drive by here with your poultry and eggs. You lose money when you do it. Eggs are worth 26c today. We never got too much lard and bacon at 18c. Potatoes are worth $2.00 per bushel. When you call for field seeds here, you get them. Our warehouse is full of fertilizer again. Better get our price.

Wish I had time to tell you about our dishes, cooking utensils and so forth, but howbeit, come in and we can show you more in a minute than we can tell you in a month.

TAYLOR MERCANTILE COMPANY.

P. S. You'll be surprised when you see the quality of our gingham and hear the price.

INDICTS OWN PARTY

No attack made upon the republican administration to date has excited more comment than that made by Representative Keller (Rep., Minnesota), one of the really important men of the great northwest. No democrat has been so severe in his criticism of the administration as Mr. Keller, because the democrats have been charitable toward the struggling administration, and sincerely desirous of aiding it to solve the problems that confronted it, largely as a result of the obstructive tactics of the republicans in the last two years of the democratic administration, says the Kennett News.

Some of the indictments brought against the republican party by this able republican, representing a great agricultural constituency are:

"Our ability to compete with other nations for world markets—and consequently our prosperity—primarily depends on reasonable transportation, cheap power, low interest, easy rents, low taxation, efficient labor and systematic distribution. We have adopted a policy which has brought about the exact reverse of these ideal conditions. The government has attempted to legislate upon everyone of these vital problems within the last six months, but instead of honestly searching for the best way out of our industrial difficulties, and welcoming the disinterested advice of economists, scientists, engineers, real financiers and experts in various lines, the machinery of the government has been commandeered by a small clique, ignorant of the A. B. C's of economics, whose blind obedience to Wall street is responsible for the stupid, selfish and short-sighted policy that is retarding our prosperity and creating a profound distrust and discontent among the people.

"The president has assumed more power than any of his predecessors and tells congress what bills to pass and what not to pass. Bills concocted at secret conferences are introduced without being referred to responsible committees.

"The ways and means committee has demonstrated its utter unfitness to deal intelligently with the great financial measures on which to a great degree the prosperity of the country depends. There are rules of taxation just as well established, as the laws of mathematics. But instead of calling in competent experts, the ways and means committee seeks the advice of a multimillionaire cabinet officer.

He suggests repeal of the excess profits tax, reduction of the higher surtax rates on individual incomes, increase of the corporation tax, retention of the ruinous transportation tax and the nuisance taxes, with new impositions on automobiles and increased rates on first class postage.

"This policy will further depress industry and fail to raise sufficient revenue for the government's needs. Less than 5,000 persons, most of them war profiteers pay the higher surtaxes on incomes of $100,000 annually, yet Secretary Mellon wants to cut in half the $500,000,000 which they contributed to the upkeep of the government and throw the additional burden upon small manufacturers, jobbers, merchants and workers and farmers.

"Most of the members of the house want to carry out the people's wishes, but a little dominant minority has tied down the safety valve of free discussion until an explosion impends which will scatter the republican party from Maine to California."

And the Harding administration is not yet six months old.

JUDICIAL BILL INVALID

Friday morning an error was discovered in the judicial redistricting bill, passed by the extra session, which appears to invalidate the entire measure.

The house passed the bill, providing for thirty-three circuits, and expressly provided therefor in section one of the bill.

The senate amended the bill, so as to provide for thirty-four circuits, but failed to amend section one, so that when the bill was finally passed, after the house had concurred in the senate amendments, section one still provided for only thirty-three circuits, while the body of the bill provides for thirty-four. The contradictory provision was contained in the enrolled bill, which was still in the hands of the governor at the time The Journal went to press.—Missouri State Journal.
